SPECIAL NEEDS
Southern Wesleyan University embraces all the diversities of our student body, including physical disability. If you have a physical condition that might limit your mobility or accessibility to our residence facilities, please call Martha Mishoe, 800-282-8798 ext. 5337, SWU's Special Services Coordinator. She will authorize the necessary arrangements to accommodate your physical needs with the housing staff.
VACATION HOUSING
Stuart-Bennett/Childs Hall, Apartments, and Mullinax Hall Residences: please note that SWU does not provide housing or food service during breaks (Fall, Thanksgiving, Christmas, Spring, and Easter). Students remaining in the area are required to make their own housing and eating arrangements during the vacations.
SOUTHERN WESLEYAN UNIVERSITY HOUSING POLICY
All single students enrolled for twelve credit hours or more and who are under the age of 23 on the first day of registration for any semester are required to live in university student housing and shall participate in the university board plan for the duration of that semester. Students who are married or living at home with their parent(s) or legal guardian may live off campus. Students under the age of 23 who have completed 8 full-time post-high school college semesters of attendance are eligible to live off campus. Maximum institutional financial aid will be applied only to direct university cost and will not be applied to off-campus costs. Exceptions to university housing policy will be considered only for extreme circumstances and must be requested in writing to the Housing Office in advance. Single students over 25 years of age or under 18 years of age must receive permission from the VP for Student Life to reside in university housing. For additional information about SWU's housing policy, please contact the Housing Office at (864) 644-5191 to request a Student Handbook or check the website at www.swu.edu for the current edition of the Student Handbook.
